

Faculty of Law / INTERNATIONAL LAW / HISTORY AND DEVELOPMENT OF INTERNATIONAL LAW

Course:	HISTORY AND DEVELOPMENT OF INTERNATIONAL LAW
Course ID	Course status	Semester	ECTS credits	Lessons (Lessons+Exercises+Laboratory)
12607	Mandatory	1	8	4+1+0
Programs	INTERNATIONAL LAW
Prerequisites	There are no requirements for taking the course.
Aims	To deal with the historical development of international law, learn how it was born and developed, during different historical eras until today. During the course, students will study the development of international law over time, considering the turning points in history that determine the periodization of the development of international law. To learn about its beginnings - the first norms and the first institutes of international law, created in the ancient period, through the middle ages, the New Century, the period between the two world wars, to modern law that developed after the Second World War. To understand contemporary international law and the factors that influenced its origin and development, through its historical predecessors.
Learning outcomes	After the course, students will be able to deal with the genesis and evolution of international law, i.e. how it was created and developed, through different time periods; recognize and analyze important historical events in the development of international law that determine its periodization; discuss different classifications and periodization of the development of international law. Along with the emergence of international relations dating back to the creation of the first states, the first rules of international law were also developed, so at the end of this course, students will gain comprehensive knowledge of the history of international law - starting with its roots and the first norms and institutes, created in ancient times, through the Middle Ages, the New Century, the period between the two world wars, to modern law that developed after the Second World War. It is expected that students may: more successfully understand and interpret contemporary international law, the factors that influenced its development; analyze and compare positive legal institutes and doctrines with their historical predecessors; discuss the contemporary scope of international law and its perspectives in the time ahead.
Lecturer / Teaching assistant	Marina Jovicevic, PhD, Assistant Professor
Methodology	Lectures, consultations, discussions, exams.
Plan and program of work
Preparing week	Preparation and registration of the semester
I week lectures	Introduction of the course, the teaching plan and the methods of examination. Introductory lecture: on the genesis and development of international law; periodization of the development of international law.
I week exercises
II week lectures	The first norms and institutes of international law. International law in the ancient world.
II week exercises
III week lectures	Development of international law: the Middle Ages.
III week exercises
IV week lectures	Development of international law: the New Century.
IV week exercises
V week lectures	Development of international law: the period between the two world wars.
V week exercises
VI week lectures	Midterm exam.
VI week exercises
VII week lectures	Contemporary international law after the Second World War. International organizations.
VII week exercises
VIII week lectures	Sources of contemporary international law. Development of international judiciary.
VIII week exercises
IX week lectures	Make-up exam.

IX week exercises
X week lectures	Contemporary war and humanitarian law.
X week exercises
XI week lectures	Contemporary international law: United Nations.
XI week exercises
XII week lectures	Development of international protection of human rights.
XII week exercises
XIII week lectures	Development of regional international law. Council of Europe. Organization for European Security and Cooperation (OSCE).
XIII week exercises
XIV week lectures	European system of human rights protection.
XIV week exercises
XV week lectures	Contemporary international law: the development of European integration and the European Union.
XV week exercises
Student workload
Per week			Per semester
8 credits x 40/30=10 hours and 40 minuts 4 sat(a) theoretical classes 0 sat(a) practical classes 1 excercises 5 hour(s) i 40 minuts of independent work, including consultations			Classes and final exam: 10 hour(s) i 40 minuts x 16 =170 hour(s) i 40 minuts Necessary preparation before the beginning of the semester (administration, registration, certification): 10 hour(s) i 40 minuts x 2 =21 hour(s) i 20 minuts Total workload for the subject: 8 x 30=240 hour(s) Additional work for exam preparation in the preparing exam period, including taking the remedial exam from 0 to 30 hours (remaining time from the first two items to the total load for the item) 48 hour(s) i 0 minuts Workload structure: 170 hour(s) i 40 minuts (courses), 21 hour(s) i 20 minuts (preparation), 48 hour(s) i 0 minuts (additional work)
Student obligations			Students are required to take the midterm exam and the final exam.
Consultations			marinajo@ucg.ac.me
Literature			Boris Krivokapić, Međunarodno pravo - koreni, razvoj, perspektive, Univerzitet Megatrend, Belgrade, 2006.
Examination methods			Midterm exam - 50 points. Final exam - 50 points.
Special remarks
Comment
Grade:	F	E	D	C	B	A
Number of points	less than 50 points	greater than or equal to 50 points and less than 60 points	greater than or equal to 60 points and less than 70 points	greater than or equal to 70 points and less than 80 points	greater than or equal to 80 points and less than 90 points	greater than or equal to 90 points